

Garway Live!

Thursday February 3rd 8pm

Garway Village Hall

Kepow Theatre – Kevin Tomlinson

The Seven Ages of Man

Adults £7, under 12s £3, Family £15

Doors and Bar from 7pm

Tickets on the door

<http://www.kevintomlinson.co.uk/page2.htm>

Shakespeare meets Whose Line Is It Anyway?

Seven Ages was created with the help and guidance of Keith Johnstone (author of the famous book Impro).

It had a sell out run at the Edinburgh Festival, receiving 5 star reviews in the process and a standing ovation on the last night. Warner Bros then filmed and bought the internet rights for 12 months; showing clips of the show on their comedy website.

The show has toured to various countries abroad including: New Zealand, Canada, Holland and Hawaii. The New Zealand Times said of it: "Tomlinson is excellent. This is a must see show!".

The show is about the seven stages of life that Shakespeare says we go through in As You Like It. True stories are taken from Kevin's - and the audience's - life and then weaved into scenes of comic or dramatic nature, for the entertainment of the audience.